

North Carolina Society of Cytology
47th Annual
Cytology Conference

February 17-18, 2017
Marriott Downtown Greensboro
Greensboro, NC

The 47th Annual NC Society of Cytology Conference is fast approaching!! We are looking forward seeing you at the Greensboro Marriott Downtown in Greensboro, NC. Overnight accommodations have been arranged at a reduced rate of $129/night. Rooms can be reserved online or by referencing the North Carolina Society of Cytology by calling (800) 228-9290 or (336) 852-6450. Rates are guaranteed for reservations made by 5 PM Tuesday, January 17, 2017. More information about the Greensboro Marriott Downtown, as well as directions, can be found at the web address below.

The NCSC Annual Conference is a great opportunity to obtain up to 10 Continuing Education (CE) Credits at a competitive price. These credits can be applied to the ASCP's Certificate Maintenance Program. This year's conference will grow on the success of 2015 and 2016. The conference will feature morphological lectures, molecular methods, a panel composed of industry experts to discuss the paradigm shifts in cervical cancer screening, and offer interactive opportunities that will test your cytology knowledge. The Friday evening reception provides a great networking opportunity with colleagues and vendors. The Saturday lunch will allow NCSC members to provide feedback in future topics and meeting locations. We value your feedback in planning future meetings.

As always, the NCSC is looking for future volunteers and leaders to help in making a successful state society. Our officers will be happy to answer any questions and provide you with additional information, if you are interested. We currently have an opening for Treasurer we hope to fill for 2017. Nominations for new officers will take place in 2018.

Printable registration forms are included in this brochure and can also be found online at www.nccytology.org. Online registration can be completed online at <http://ncsc.simplerix.com/Event/28321/2017-NCSC-Cytology-Conference/> or by going to our website and following the posted link.

Please help us plan this event by submitting your registration with payment by January 30, 2017—registrations received after this date will be subject to a $15 late fee and may not be guaranteed a spot at the reception and/or luncheon.

Thank you for considering this conference—we hope to see you there!
